EFA Robert Blackburn Printmaking Workshop

IFPDA Print Fair
October 26 – 29, 2023

We are honored to exhibit five artists from the EFA Blackburn Legacy Fellowship, along side artists who worked with Robert Blackburn for the 20th Edition of NADA Miami: Devraj Dakoji, Dindga McCannon, Michael Kelly Williams, Michele Godwin and Otto Neals. EFA RBPMW is the longest, oldest running community printshop in the country—we are also the only community printshop with stone lithography in Manhattan. As new generations of artists begin to utilize print, we make sure to continue his legacy by keeping the space affordable, accessible and welcoming.

And I hope that every artist who's working there or the majority of them will be able to take some of this that we have and give it to young people.

Because I always felt and I still feel that no matter what we do as artists, if we can't pass it on for someone else to carry the torch, then we have lost it. - Bob Blackburn

Speak to the Winds: Proverbs from Africa

Kofi Asare Opoku

Illustrated by Dindga McCannon

"A proverb is the horse which can carry one swiftly to the discovery of ideas" and this diverse collection will lead readers to an understanding of an important aspect of the cultural heritage of Africa. Included are proverbs touching upon several areas of human nature and conduct and others representing children, animals, and nature. A final section explores proverbs which appear on the staffs and banners of African chiefs.
